

DEVIL'S RIVER PHOTOGRAPHY OUTING: PEOPLE, LANDSCAPES, WATERFALLS, & CAVES WITH MICHAEL COONEY

SCAN ME

Master the skills to engage subjects, capture dramatic environmental portraits, expressive landscapes, and romantic water motion images. Challenge yourself as you explore shallow caves, rock escarpments, and the beauty of spring alongside students of all skill levels in a supportive environment.

Shooting on location with experienced workshop models Madysen and Torri, you'll learn to create images that capture the full range of expression and essence of people. The class provides guidance on the technical aspects of model photography, as well as tips on directing subjects in various situations.

Students often share that, while they hadn't considered working with a model before, they found it an enjoyable learning experience. They created photos that were both unique and different from their usual family and friend portraits.

Devil's River Campground (16612 County Road R, Maribel, WI):

A scenic spot with a historic mill, barn, silo, log cabins, and small waterfalls, ideal for environmental portraits and nature photography.

Cherney Caves Park (15401 County Road R, Maribel, WI):

Just down the road, with easily accessible caves, spring flowers, and deep woods.

Bring a digital camera, tripod, and ND (neutral density) filter for water motion photography. A polarizing filter can be used, but offers a limited range. Smartphone photographers are welcome to explore their cameras' full capabilities.

Our models will provide a variety of looks at the locations and will be available to work with photographers individually as time permits.

A shoot brief will be sent to registrants prior to the outing. Students are responsible for their own transportation to the class site.

*Advisory: The locations require walking, climbing stairs, and navigating rocky environments, which may not be suitable for individuals with mobility issues.
